Arrival by railway

We are in 10 minutes walking distance from Tübingen main station.

Time table information: Use the German Railway information system. (www.bahn.de)

Enter the following station: Tübingen Hbf

Route description: Leave the station underground passageway by its South exit (the direction opposite to the reception building). A large, former barracks building in front of you is confirmation that you have chosen the right direction when you leave the pedestrian passageway. Turn right; you come past a phone booth and reach Hegelstraße. Follow Hegelstraße for some hundred meters to the Derendinger Straße junction.

Cross the Derendinger Straße at a pedestrian light. After the pedestrian light, turn left and follow the Derendinger Straße. You cross one cross-road. You turn right into the next cross road which is Konrad-Adenauer-Straße. Approximately 50m after you see on the left side a building with red windows frame. Follow the signs left into the driveway and left to the main entrance. You will find AVAT on the first floor.

Arrival by aircraft

Tübingen is quite close to Stuttgart Airport (STR). (www.flughafen-stuttgart.de)

The journey from the airport to our office takes about 20-30 minutes by taxi.

You can also take a line 828 bus (Airport Sprinter) to Tübingen main station. The journey takes approx. 1 hour; the buses run from Monday to Friday every hour and on Saturday every other hour. From the bus terminal, go into the reception building of the main station, then through the station underground passageway and then as described above for the railway journey.

Arrival by car

Tübingen can be reached from the North and South via the B 27 as well as from the West and East via the B28. The B27 crosses the A8 in the North of Tübingen, the B28 crosses the A81 in the West of Tübingen. The B28 goes directly past our office.

When you arrive in Tübingen, you can follow the detailed maps on our site (approach information sheet). If you want to drive through the city, which is well worth seeing, you should observe or avoid the extensive network of oneway streets.

A tip for travellers coming from the North or West directions over the A8: Your navigation system will lead you at the Stuttgart motorway junction onto the A81 in the direction of Singen.

However, you can reduce the driving time if you change instead from the A8 to the B27 at the Stuttgart-Degerloch exit (East of the Stuttgart motorway junction). This route is longer but quicker. Parking space is available directly in front of our office.
